Unemployment Insurance Commission Reports On Fund

The Unemployment Insurance Advisory Committee in its annual report to the Minister of Labour for 1945 on the financial condition of the Unemployment Insurance Fund states that it considers the Fund "adequate to meet any liabilities likely to arise," it was today announced by Hon. Humphrey Mitchell.

The Committee is not prepared to say, however, that the Fund is in any degree excessive or that over-provision for the future has been made. It anticipates that benefit payments for the first few months of 1946 will be about $4,500,000 per month, and in January payments actually totalled $4,493,789.36. At this level, the Committee points out, the total revenue of the Fund is sufficient to meet all payments but increases much beyond this will draw down the Fund.

During 1945, the gross amount of benefits paid, rose each month from "V-E" Day on, showing an increase, especially during the last three months of the year. Total benefits paid in 1945 amounted to $14,581,475.71 as compared to $12,985,707.67 in 1944. Payments in December alone amounted to $3,450,577.44. Total revenue for 1945 was $50,478,728.48 as compared with $52,773,593.97 in 1944.

The balance of the credit of the Fund by the end of 1945 had increased to $319,537,572.37 from the 1944 figure of $250,020,319.02. The book value of bonds held in the Fund is $308,894,982.17 while accrued interest totals $1,919,473.11. Average weighted yield on investments is 2.23 percent per annum.

The Committee reported it had received representations on February 25 from the Trades and Labour Congress and the Canadian Congress of Labour who contended that the benefit payments provided by the Act were inadequate and should be increased. The labour bodies argued that there had been "a substantial increase in the cost of living" since the Act was passed in 1940; standards of earnings and living had also increased substantially; and that in higher earnings classes the benefits paid represented a relatively low percentage of the average earnings.

The Committee stated it was not prepared to say that the Fund was adequate to provide for a substantial increase in benefit rates, nor that a general increase in benefits would be sound. However, the Committee decided to undertake an immediate study of the needs and possibilities of the revision of the schedule of benefits with a view to recommending any changes in benefits and contributions considered desirable and practicable.

Surprise Miscellaneous Shower Friday Evening

Mrs. F. Patterson entertained at her home, assisted by Mrs. Bonnie Taylor, at a surprise shower on Friday evening of last week in honour of Miss Madge Rinnington, a bride-elect of next month.

Some twenty-five guests gathered to extend best wishes to Miss Rinnington and a pleasant evening of games and music was spent. Tulips and other spring flowers lit the room created a real springlike atmosphere.

After a delicious lunch served by the hostesses, little Miss Shirley Patterson wheeled a dinner wagon of miscellaneous gifts in and presented it to the guest of honour who very graciously thanked her many friends assembled.

Miss Rinnington has been employed for some time on the nursing staff at the local hospital and has made many friends since coming here.

NOW THE LID IS OFF

LOAD LOAD
10 LBS. 65000135.

EARLY in the war, a shipment of seven cartons was sent from the Canadian Car Munitions, Montreal, to the Western Cartridge Company, East Alton, Ill., by Canadian National Express. To all who saw the seven train pass by, there was nothing unusual about them. Yet, high-ranking officers, the only C.N. Express men who knew what the contents were, couldn't sleep until each car had reached its destination. Until now it was a secret. It was dry lead aside—the most dangerous shipment ever handled by the Canadian National Express. The explosive, of which few persons have heard, is more potent than nitro-glycerine and five times as sensitive as TNT. A small one-and-a-half-inch shell-coated, paper-maché tube five inches long containing eight ounces of aside was set in a sunflower-shaped centre of sponge rubber and placed in an eight-inch square wooden box, with cotton wadding, mousie rubber and felt insulation. The wooden box was often

UNION DRILLING CO. MAY SPUD NEAR WAINWRIGHT FIELD

Union Drilling Co., associated with many pioneer operations in Turner Valley and elsewhere in the province, gave notice of reviving activity this week by taking up a reservation in the Baxter Lake area, near Wainwright field.

This permit covers an area of 19,840 acres in tps. 45 and 46, rgs. 5-W-4 and is north and east of the extensive area already drilled in that field.

Officials of the company said Friday that favourable geological reports had already been obtained and further work would be undertaken. If, as expected, these confirm the first findings the company will drill one or more wells with its own rigs and its own money.—Calgary Ex.

Harmony Club Plan Waltz Night

Members of the Harmony Club met in the council chambers at the town hall on Tuesday, March 26th at 8:00 p.m. with Mrs. R. Taylor, vice-president in charge.

Hostesses for the Harmony Bridge held during March turned in their score and reports and a gratifying sum was realized from this project. Final high scores at the bridge parties were Mrs. M. Gibson, played at Mrs. W. T. Lane's, and 2nd Mr. Gordon Graham played at Mrs. L. Stott's. For the whist the high scores went to Mrs. J. Stinert and Cpl. Ethier both played at the home of Mrs. Kowalchuk.

Mrs. Stott gave a very interesting demonstration on how to make crepe paper daffodils and those interested will meet at the home of Mrs. L. C. Tury on Wednesday, April 3rd, where a social evening will be spent making flowers.

Plans are underway for a Waltz Night to be held on Friday, April 26th. This will be a formal spring dance and should prove a very nice evening for all who attend. Do save the date.

The next regular meeting of the Harmony Club will be held at the town hall in the council chambers on Monday, April 29th.

O.K. Shoe Repair Changes Hands This Week

Mr. and Mrs. John Boos, arrive this week from Edmonton in preparation to take over the O.K. Shoe Repair which John has purchased.

Mr. Boos is a veteran of this war, having served five years and four months in the army as a small arms instructor and later transferring to the paratroopers. He comes to Wainwright with two years experience in shoe repair and leather work, and on Wednesday he is expecting another man to help him, Mr. Alex MacKenzie. Mr. MacKenzie has had 11 years experience along this line of work, so they are prepared to make a good working combination in the field of shoe repairing.

When questioned of his future activities, Mr. John Boos states that he is planning to return to China in the very near future where he will make his home.

Mr. Kees states that he has been in Wainwright for eight years and four months, coming here in 1937 after purchasing the business from Mr. Ben Karmen.

Mr. Boos went on to assure us that the former customers of the O.K. can expect to receive the same courteous service that they have received in the past and extends a cordial invitation to all to drop in and make themselves acquainted.

OTTAWA, March 19th, 1946

The Editor,
Dear Sir,

From letters appearing in the Press and others reaching this Department it is evident that there is a misunderstanding on the part of the Canadian public in regard to parcel post rates to other countries and restrictions on articles which can be shipped to the United Kingdom and continental countries.

A chief criticism is that "exorbitant" postage rates are levied on parcels of food and comforts to Europe. As you undoubtedly realize the problem of relief to countries in distress is not primarily one coming under the jurisdiction of the Post Office Department. Assistance can readily be given however, that this Department is both willing and anxious to do all in its power to help.

It might be explained that parcel post rates from Canada to other countries are determined by the cost of land and sea conveyance, as well as charges which must be paid for transit services provided by other Postal Administrations.

For example, parcel post to the continent of Europe is routed via the United Kingdom. In the circumstances, the British Postal Administration, as well as the country of destination, must be paid for their services in handling parcels. In the case of parcels addressed to the United Kingdom postage is shared to meet the delivery expenses of the United Kingdom Postal Service. Then our postal charges are designed to cover out-of-pocket expenses.

If authorities in other countries are able to make reductions in their charges for handling our mail, the Canadian Post Office will promptly pass along such reductions for the benefit of the Canadian mailer.

The restriction placed on the contents of parcel post, i.e., the 7 lb. limit for food, and of not more than 2 lb. of any variety to the United Kingdom did not originate with the Canadian Post Office but was imposed by British authorities in the light of their own domestic conditions. One reason being, to protect their rationing system, also it is claimed that morale would be adversely affected if there were no restrictions on foodstuffs from overseas and the privileged few with friends in Canada were able to receive unlimited quantities while their neighbours were strictly rationed.

The feelings of Canadians with friends overseas can readily be understood but they can rest assured that the Post Office is seeking to afford the best possible service and at the lowest possible cost under current conditions.

Yours sincerely,

W. J. TURNBULL,

Deputy Postmaster General.

Canadian Garden Service

How to Grow Really Tender Vegetables

Practically any vegetable taken right out of the garden at the door will be infinitely tastier than those out of a can or storehouse, but as any experienced gardener knows there is a vast difference between the tender, early grown and the other kind. The real secret of tender vegetables is quick, unchecked growth. To get this means planting at the proper time, not too early with tender things that frost or cold weather may check, and then they must be harvested when just right. Old gardeners push growth along quickly with plenty of cultivation, fertilizer, and water when necessary and if possible. They also spread sowings out over at least several weeks so that young stuff is coming along continuously. Another trick they use is to plant several different types, an early maturing sort, a medium and a late. In the seed catalogue usually will be listed the number of days to maturity. Thus we can purchase, say, peas that will be ready for the table in fifty days, some in sixty and some in seventy. By using some of all three there will be a succession of good crops instead of a regular feast followed by a famine. Most experienced gardeners continue making sowings of carrots, beets, beans, lettuce and spinach from the time the ground is first ready up to mid July.

Garden Tools
With a very small garden all the tools needed are a rake, a hoe and a spade or digging fork. These are minimum requirements. With a little more equipment, however, much labor can be saved. Digging forks, cultivators, special weeding, ditch hoes, etc., will make the work easier and more interesting. For larger gardens a small garden tractor that will cultivate, plow, etc., might be considered. A hand-propelled sprayer will also speed the work. It is a good plan to wipe off all dirt between operations, and a little oil or grease smeared on the shiny surfaces is recommended.

The Lawn
Lawn grass only makes its best growth in the cool, moist weather of Spring and Fall, hence garden experts advise doing lawn work just as soon as possible. This means as soon as one can walk on the lawn without getting the shoes muddy. This advice applies to starting new lawns or repairing old ones.

Seldom is it advisable to sow a straight variety of lawn seed, and never in the case of the general family type of lawn. Seed houses put up special mixtures for this purpose, a blend of several kinds of seed. In these mixtures are some very expensive seeds and some less expensive blended together by those experts who know what is best for Canadian conditions. In the mixtures are some tough grasses that will help the lawn to withstand traffic, some quick growing kinds so that one does not have to wait weeks for the green carpet desired, and some grasses that will stay green almost in the driest weather.

Grass will thrive best in good soil and it is never advisable to sow without preparation. This means at least one thorough cultivation before seed is sown, working up the top as fine as possible, and if necessary also working in a layer of rich, fine loam. It is highly important that all holes are filled in evenly. Sow on a windless day and broadcast once across and once lengthwise. Follow directions carefully as to amount of seed to use. Grass on good soil, or fed once or twice each season with a good commercial fertilizer will out-grow most weeds.

Several Canadian public libraries are now showing films on the natural resources, industries and people of Canada as part of their Saturday story hours for children.

LOCAL SHOOTING

Many an urgent request has come to the local R.C.M.P. to find out just what can be done about the parties who endanger life and property by the shooting of small arms rifles.

The biggest complaint is against the offenders who, for nothing better to do, shoot 22's at nothing in particular and everything in general. This is a very serious practise as these small arms are dangerous within a radius of one mile.

Most of the complaints come from farmers who have seen the shooters but never get near enough to them to warn them that it is dangerous. They complain of boys as the offenders in the great majority of cases. If this is the case it should be the duty of every parent to not allow children to have guns without the proper education as to their use.

It might prove rather serious some day when we will read in the paper that Mr. So and So has been accidentally killed by someone through the improper use of fire arms. This is not all together beyond the realm of possible.

To shoot on any farmers land without the proper consent of the owner is an offence punishable by law, as the owner of the land reserves the right to allow or disallow hunting on his property.

Now that spring is upon us and with greater quotas of ammunition to be bought the situation is one that, unless it is checked right now, serious complications may result.

There is no finer sport to be had than for the youngsters to go shooting, but unless the proper instruction is given in the handling of fire-arms it is a very dangerous sport.

PARENTS, do that instructing job now and save many a worried hour while the children are out of your sight. It may mean that somebody's life, animals, or property will be spared from the wanton destruction that is so prevalent at this time of year.

A KINDERGARTEN FOR WAINWRIGHT

Some aspect of a kindergarten in Wainwright has been heard and our comment is that the sooner the task of organizing begins the better off the tots of four and five years old will be.

Whether or not this could be a public venture of private enterprise we do not know. It will in all probability have to be undertaken by some person or group that would operate a school of such nature.

There might be government grants to help on this, but not likely as the government has its full quota of educational facilities now and they are not apt to add any more expense to their budget.

In other towns this size we know of kindergartens but they are operated by private enterprise, therefore the doubt in our minds that grants are obtainable for such.

Wainwright has now quite a population of four and five year old children who would welcome a chance to attend a kindergarten say for two or three hours a day, as well as many mothers who would welcome the rest and quietness during that time they were away.

A suitable location would have to be found for this, but that should not be too great a task. We have quite a selection of schools and buildings in town and surely one room could be set aside for the smaller children this fall.

There is no denying the fact that the child that has one or two years kindergarten experience will make better and quicker advances when he or she really starts school in earnest. The fact of playing, working and sharing together will go along way to making it easier to accustom them to life that they may expect for the next ten or twelve years.

This way their first year in grade one then could be spent on school subjects instead of dividing the time spent on school and what they would learn in one or two years kindergarten.

We think that this idea would meet with the approval of most parents of young children. Even if the charge per pupil were $2.00 or $4.00 per month this would not be out of the way compared to benefits to be attained.

Maybe the Home and School Association or the Adult Education group could take this matter up and they might be in a position to achieve better results than if any other approach were made to the subject.

The finding of instructors would not be difficult as there are many people in town that have wide and varied experience in the teaching field. Of course it does require a little more experience than the ordinary teacher would have attained by teaching older children, but surely there are people in town or district that are fairly well conversant with the rudiments of child psychology and child training.

This appears to be a worth while subject that should be thoroughly discussed. It is definitely one that in the future is to hold its place in our educational standards, so why not start now to attain that end. Would you be willing to give your support?

In The Legislature

by W. Mason

The past week has seen the passing of considerable Legislation which brings the House near completion for this Session. Most of the time has been taken up by the Committee of the whole Assembly in discussion of the Bills before the House.

This week I am giving you a few of the high-lights of some of these Bills not already reported through the courtesy of the Editor of this paper.

An amendment to the Setting of Poison Act authorizes the Fish and Game Commissioner to distribute certain poisons known as "Coyote Getters". These are distributed only to Game Officers and persons recommended by the R.C.M.P.

An amendment to the Agriculture Weed Board Act gives power to the Municipal Council and the Minister of Municipal Affairs for the leasing of the owner to carry out reclamation work on whatever terms may be decided proper to the farms reclamation. By experience Municipal Districts have found that equipment and labour are not always available when required and that an agreement with the owner to carry out reclamation plans was before, in many cases, not practical.

A change in the Succession Duty Act says that any individual may bequeath any part of his Estate to a School District or School Division and such part of his Estate will be exempt from succession duty. The Act before included the University of Alberta and this part has not been changed.

The Municipal District Act has been changed to provide for representation of the school division, which forms a part of the municipal district, to attend the council meetings and take part in discussions relating to school matters. It also provides for the arrangement by the Council for a member of theirs to attend Divisional Board meetings. As school divisions secure their revenues by requisitions on the municipalities, this change is considered desirable. A new section authorizes the Municipal Council to enter into agreements for the provisions and distribution of electricity, gas and power. Provision is made for the necessary approval of two-thirds of the proprietors voting on such a proposition in any municipality before it can be started.

The assessed value of farm lands situated in any district containing city, town or village, may be reduced by the Minister of Education for the purpose of apportioning the requirement from the rural section of the school district.

A new Bill provides for the incorporation of the Alberta Industrial Corporation. The Corporation will be empowered to loan money for developing or expanding manufacturing or industrial businesses within the province. The Corporation will raise money by the issue and sale of debentures up to the sum of $5,000,000.00 guaranteed by the province. The municipal and public Boards may invest in these debentures. The government will advance $100,000.00 to the Corporation as a loan. The purpose of this Bill is to provide for the expanding and development of Alberta industries and to provide an opportunity for the citizens of Alberta to invest their money. Albertans will have an opportunity of investing their money in Alberta industries, in preference to having outside and foreign capital doing the investing and receiving many of the benefits from the investment.

An amendment to the Cooperative Marketing Association's Guarantee Act, authorizes the government to guarantee the borrowings by a Co-

UNNECESSARY SPENDING

"Isn't this a nice piece of paper, Aunt Lucia?" inquired my nephew, Tommy Trank, showing me a check for twenty dollars made out in his name. "I earned it by picking berries for Mr. Grant."

I was visiting for a few days at the home of my sister, Doris, and we were busy in her kitchen preparing berries for canning.

"Yes, indeed, Tommy," I replied, "it's fine that you have had an opportunity to earn so much this summer. What do you intend to do with your money?"

"I know what I'll do with five dollars of it," Tommy promptly replied, "I'll take just that much money to finish filling my war-stamp album and then I'll buy another twenty-five-dollar bond. That will be the second bond I've bought with my own money."

"That's wonderful, Tommy!" I exclaimed, "You're helping your country now and also saving for your own future needs."

"I came in to talk to Mother about how to spend the rest of my money," Tommy continued, "I need to buy a waterproof jacket to wear to school this fall. I think I can get one for about half of my fifteen dollars."

"You will need a new coat to wear in the rainy weather," Doris agreed, "Your old one is too small for you. I should have put it away to be saved until little Bruce is big enough to wear it. But the need in Europe is so distressing, I shall include it with other clothes being collected to be sent over there. What do you propose to do with your other seven or eight dollars, Tommy?" Doris smiled as she asked the question.

"I want to buy a new tennis racket," Mother, Alan, Foster bought a new one with some of the money he earned picking berries. I'd like to get another while there are still some for sale."

"Did Alan need a new tennis racket?" Doris inquired, "I thought he had a good one when he played with you last summer."

"That racket didn't belong to Alan," Tommy explained. "He had borrowed it from his cousin who has since moved away."

"How about yours, Tommy? Do you need a new one?" asked Doris. "Didn't you tell me this spring that your racket was in good shape?"

"Yes, Mother," Tommy truthfully replied, "I'm sure my racket will last a long time. I just want a new one like Alan's."

"Wanting and needing are very different words, Son," Doris said soberly. "It was Tommy's turn to ask questions. 'Haven't you always been willing for me to decide for myself how to spend the money I've earned, Mother? Don't you think I'm a little worth-while?'"

"If your father and I hadn't felt that tennis is a good game for our children and their friends, we wouldn't have put a court in the backyard nor given each of you a good racket," Doris replied, "but right now we're living in a time of scarcity of goods and an abundance of money."

"You've just told me that you are thinking of buying a tennis racket while you can find some for sale," Doris went on in answer to her son's puzzled look. "That means not many tennis rackets are to be had. If everybody having enough money to buy a tennis racket tries to buy one, the prices of those on hand will rise so much that people won't be able to afford to buy them at all. If everybody tries to buy all the wants of everything that is for sale in our stores, prices will climb up and up until people won't be able even to buy things with what he already has, making things over and making things do, prices will stay within the reach of people with incomes like ours, and we shall be able to keep on buying what we actually need and to save some of our money for the time when goods are plentiful again."

Tommy's face brightened at his mother's clear explanation. "I'm glad you told me that, Mother," he said. "I'll keep on using my old tennis racket and leave the new ones down town for folks who haven't any of their own. Those extra dollars will give me a good start on another war-stamp album."

According to Mr. Rowzee, the Canadian taxpayers' investment in the synthetic rubber plant at Sarnia, Ontario, is now showing a profit and is likely to continue to do so even after setting aside substantial reserves for depreciation and for purchasing new equipment when the need arises.

He gave five reasons for his optimistic view of the future of the synthetic rubber plant:

1. Synthetic rubber has proved itself at least as good and often better than natural rubber.
2. Synthetic rubber is meeting, and is likely to continue to meet, the price competition from natural rubber. In doing so it will help to stabilize world rubber prices.
3. Research work is developing new types of synthetic rubber and new long-range plans for expansion.
4. Export markets for Polymer types of synthetic rubber are certain to increase.
5. Polymer Corporation will prosper as it takes steps to assist in developing new industries which will use its raw materials.

"With synthetic rubber of excellent quality now available, prices have become more stable and the processing companies can safely make long-range plans for expansion," said Mr. Rowzee. "For you and me, this means steadier and perhaps lower prices for the thousands of rubber items we use. And also it means a host of wonderful new products made of rubber."

Mr. Rowzee added that the difference in quality between synthetic and natural rubber for making passenger tires is now so slight that the matter of cost will become the most important question.

FARMERS: The local Co-op Livestock Association have made arrangements to ship feeder hogs weighing 100 to 160 lbs. to Edmonton to be sold on a live basis. The freight costs will be the same as those for cattle and sows and this short haul should be an advantage. —Phone C. R. Greer, Agent. —3-4

EXPLORERS NOTES

The Explorers' meeting on March 29th was in the form of a supper and theatre party. 26 enjoyed the supper which was concluded with two birthday cakes made by Mrs. Hancock in honour of Eileen Novak and Eva McDonald, two of our members who had celebrated their birthday during the week. After the dishes were cleared away the whole group went to see "Son of Lasse" and enjoyed it very much.

We are expecting to welcome some new members on Friday, April 5th, so girls, if you have any little friends years old or over who are interested in joining, be sure to bring them along, won't you?—H.K.

"HERO" OF NOVEL

DIES IN CALGARY

One of the most colorful characters of the early days of the west and the "hero" of Owen Wister's novel of ranch life, "The Virginian," died in Calgary Thursday. He was Everett Cyril Johnson, 87.

Mr. Johnson had a noted career as a cowpuncher in the western United States, and was a pioneer in Alberta. Even after his retirement, he lived an active life, and only a few days before his death had gone to Glenora to visit an old friend.

It will take more than sweeping statements to clean up the mess we're in.

JUNIOR C.G.I.T.

A very nice time was spent when the Anchorettes met at the home of Mrs. S. Torg where they held their regular meeting. Gladys Torg was acting leader. We opened by singing a hymn. Then a business meeting was held. Gladys asked us some quiz questions and riddles and we also played a few games. We worked on the decorations for the banquet after which we closed our meeting by singing "Taps". A delicious lunch was enjoyed by all.

The banquet will be held next Wednesday, April 3rd in the basement of the Presbyterian church at 8:30 p.m.

CANNING SUGAR

DUE IN MAY

First half of the 10 pound allotment of sugar for canning is due in May according to the ration administration of the Prices Board. Sugar preserves coupon S-8 to S-12 inclusive will be valid on May 2 for the purchase of five pounds of sugar for canning. On July 4, sugar-preserves coupons S-17 to S-21 inclusive will be declared valid for the purchase of the last five pounds of sugar for home preserving purposes.

Sugar-preserves coupons for canning purposes will be valid in addition to two regular S coupons valid monthly during May, June and July, the Prices Board states.

MEN PROMISED MORE SHIRTS

Further steps tightening up directives to manufacturers of men's and boys' shirts have been taken by the Prices Board to help alleviate the shortage of these garments, the Board announces.

Increased supplies of fabrics are being made available to shirt manufacturers out of quotas received from the United States. Directives to manufacturers prohibit them from using shirting material for any garment other than men's shirts. The Board has also directed that manufacturers may not hold more than one month's production of shirts in inventory. Although these measures are expected to alleviate the situation, the Board warns that it will take several weeks before results are apparent in the retail stores.

PRICES TO FARMERS ADVANCE MONDAY
Prices to farmers on bacon hogs and churning cream were advanced in Edmonton Monday in line with the rise in cutting prices of creamery butter and pork to consumers.

Paying price of butter was advanced five cents per pound butterfat on all grades of churning cream while the wholesale price of creamery butter was advanced four cents a pound on all grades. This makes special grade cream 80 cents per pound butterfat at most plants, which includes the 10-cent dominion consumer subsidy to producers, and wholesale price for best print creamery butter to stores 40 cents per pound wrapped.

Coincident with the advance in hog prices to be in line with the $2.50 per cwt. on top grade Whitefish for Britain at seaboard, bonuses to producers were reduced one dollar per head by the dominion government on Monday. This makes the premium on grade A carcases $2 apiece and on B-1 grade $1. Net increase to producers works out at approximately $1.62 per carcass on top grade stock.

THEY GET THEIR MAN
The types of public service C.J.C.A. offers their listeners are numerous and varied. Livestock prices, weather reports, hockey flashes, announcements of activities of community welfare organizations, articles lost and found, fund-raising campaigns are just a few.

But one of the most unique yet least known services is C.J.C.A.'s "missing persons" department, and the co-operative set-up between C.J.C.A. the R.C.M.P. and the City Detective Department.

Here's how it works. A person wishing to locate another, calls at C.J.C.A. The necessary information is listed, then the enquirer is sent to the police or R.C.M.P., depending on possible whereabouts of person where he passes on the information they require.

This completed, the police phone C.J.C.A. with the "go signal" and in a few minutes the appeal is made.

The system eliminates duplication, confusion and over-lapping. C.J.C.A. refers the case to the police who in turn notify the enquirer when information is received.

Many persons have been located on very meagre information. Others lost for years have turned up. Last week a lady in Ontario located a man in Alberta whose whereabouts she had not known for over 30 years.

It is amazing how quickly and how often someone turns up with some information that helps locate the person in question.

The third official estimate places Western Canada's 1945 wheat crop at 283 million bushels, compared with 392 million bushels in 1944.

GUNNY SACK IS HOME
Making his home in a gunny sack is nothing to "Whirlie", three-year-old Yorkshire Terrier, who arrived in Winnipeg over Canadian National lines from England with his master, Squadron Leader James P. Coyne, D.F.C. So small is the little canine visitor that most of the time he occupies the gunny sack slung over his master's shoulder.

All the way from England, he reposed in the small sack and the top was conveniently closed over him when train conductors or officials aboard ship happened along.

"Whirlie" is a shaggy little fellow with long hair over his eyes. He is now fully grown, weighs about one pound, four ounces and stands "one and one-half hands high". He has between 50 and 60 hours flying time to his credit in Whirlwind and Mosquito planes and has been in France, Belgium, Holland and Germany.

THE YEAR ONE

A newspaperman was assigned to make a new year forecast. He laid on his desk editorial from all across the country. "People simply are not facing facts," he said.

The facts are, as Thomas Edison once put it, "There is no expedient to which man will not resort in order to avoid the real labor of thinking." This might be restated today by saying there is no fate man will not accept in order to avoid the real pain of changing. He would literally "rather die," for instance, than have to apologize to anyone.

And, in Year 1 of the Atomic Age, he literally may have to.

Every once in a while, as during the ice age, conditions arise on earth which demand that its creatures change or perish. Today, with weapons in the laboratory that may make atom bombs look like a kid's fireworks, we again have these conditions. If we don't change now, in ways which will enable us to get along together, the human species will become as extinct as the dinosaur or dodo.

No commission to control the bomb can save us. We ourselves must accept a commission—a commission to be different. We must determine to change in ways which, as a family man, a business man, a public official or as members of a certain race, or class, or nation, will enable us to get along with other people. Then people won't want to throw bombs at each other.

How can we start this change? We have known how for the last 2,000 years—since the beginning of the Christian era. Christ told us that all who turned to God would find the inner freedom he desired and the inner discipline he needed. We would find the way to make life both happy and orderly. And men who find life happy and secure get along with each other, and with other races and nations.

The change that is needed for every one of us this year, therefore, is to turn from self-control to God-control. Let Him take over our minds and lives and usher in a mighty renaissance of new world thinking and living. Then Year 1 of the Atomic Era can be a year—not of fear, uncertainty and menace—but the first year of a Golden Age.
